"Well might we feel," he remarked, "that the walls of Empire are closely linked."

He added that the Congo would bear comparison with other colonies.

It is reported that General Buller, the new Governor of Natal, has been empowered to establish a dictatorship.

The Newcastle conference was resumed yesterday, the discussion on the congress scheme being carried on amidst scenes of disorder.

Mr. Hughes declared that the adoption of the scheme would enforce a subversive policy which would kill unionism.

The return of the south and west to work was thought forward, the proposal arousing great disorder.

Another question discussed was whether the delegates of the Coalminers' Association should remain on the strike Congress.

They decided to remain, the result being regarded as a signal triumph for Mr. Hughes.

It was stated that a return to work on the part of the south would be gladly welcomed.

Congress recommends a ballot of the southern and southern miners at once to decide whether to return to work or to remain on strike.

Northern owners say that the sending back of the miners to work would be a great advantage to the coal trade.

FOR SETTLEMENT.

CONGRESS FAVOURS COMPROMISE.

BALLOT IN NORTH AND SOUTH.

WEST TO CONFER.

THE PREMIER'S BILL.

PENALTIES FOR STRIKE LEADERS.

UPROARIOUS SCENES IN PARLIAMENT.

SENSATIONAL STATEMENT BY MR. WADE.

The strike congress meeting last night was the most important yet held. Resolutions were passed, all dealing with a settlement of the strike.

The first resolution approved a plan of campaign by which the miners in the North, South, and West should make such arrangements as should be satisfactory to themselves and the strike congress for a return to work.

It was further decided that a ballot should be taken of the Northern and Southern miners as to whether they were willing to accept an Industrial Board, and that an open conference should be arranged with the Western proprietors at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Paterson will sit on the Industrial Board to-day. A drastic bill giving power to deal with the present crisis was introduced by the Premier last night.

The bill makes any leader who instigates or aids or helps to continue either a strike or a lockout liable to 12 months' imprisonment, without the option of a fine. The penalty on others than the leaders is left at two months.

If the planning or aiding of a strike or lockout is carried on behind closed doors, the police are empowered to enter.

The Premier explained that both the penalty of 12 months and the right of the police to enter a closed meeting applied to proprietors as well as employees.

The increased penalties only apply where the strike is for the purpose of depriving the public of a necessary commodity.

The Act also contains two clauses taken from the Commonwealth Act against illegal combinations. The Premier explained that these were added to the bill to prevent the refusal of the Commonwealth to take steps against A. Keith and Co., Ltd.

The Standing Orders were suspended amidst some uproar in order that the bill might be taken through all stages at one sitting.

The Speaker, in case of possible trouble, sent for more police.

After leaving the conference, Hughes was asked to address a meeting of Newcastle wharf-labourers. There turned out to be about 50 I.W.W. socialists among those present. They shouted "Traitor!" at Mr. Hughes, and left the place crying out "Strike." They afterwards resigned.

The executive of the Newcastle Wharf-labourers' Union thereupon struck. It was afterwards discovered that about 200 of the wharf-labourers had not been invited to the "meeting." These men refused to strike, and the strike was forthwith declared off.

The miners at the strikers' mines struck yesterday. They said that non-unionists were employed there. The owners denied this. The Federation officials managed to induce the night shift to go to work.

Mr. Hughes announced last night that the miners' mines had entered into a contract to supply the Sydney Gasworks with 4000 tons of coal a week if the railways would provide haulage.

STRIKE LEGISLATION.

BILL BEFORE THE HOUSE.

DRASTIC PROVISIONS.

GAOL FOR THE AGITATOR.

INTERUPTIONS BY OPPOSITION.

Excitement ran high at Parliament House last night. Every member of the Assembly was in his place; the speaker's chair was occupied by the Premier. The bill was displayed long before the stage was reached when the provisions of the bill were discussed. First, Mr. McGOWEN, and then Mr. CHARLTON, made points of order concerning the procedure.

Mr. McGOWEN said he noticed that the motion on the business paper was quite different in terms from the motion of which was given on the previous evening. The first motion covered "a bill to amend the Industrial Disputes Act," but the motion as it appeared upon the business paper contained the words "to amend the Commonwealth Act."

The SPEAKER said that variation of the terms of a motion was not allowed, but that as the alteration was made in time to allow of the motion in its amended form appearing on the business paper, he would allow the motion.

Mr. NIELSEN raised the point that the motion was given on the business paper in the name of the motion which had been given. He raised the further point that legislation is not given to the House by the Premier, but that it is given to the House by the Speaker.

Mr. CHARLTON contended that no urgency had been shown. There was no necessity to pass the bill at once. The Premier, however, was not to be deterred. He said that the bill was of such importance that it should be passed at once.

part of some sections of the community when obstruction was raised at the very start, before the House even knew what the bill contained.

Mr. CANN submitted that the Premier was not entitled to draw such inferences from the attitude of the Opposition to the initiative stages of a bill of the kind proposed.

The CHAIRMAN said that so far as the Premier had gone he had kept himself well within the rules of the House.

Mr. CANN said he should not be allowed to impute motives to the Opposition. (Interjection.)

The PREMIER suggested that the common-sense course to follow would be to listen to what he had to say in explanation of the bill, and then to express an opinion upon it.

Mr. CANN said that the Premier had been moved solely by a desire to express his opinion on the bill, and that he was not entitled to impute motives to the Opposition.

WHARFAGE RATES

MELBOURNE, Thursday. For some months past the Melbourne Harbour Trust has had under consideration the question of revising the wharfage rates. As a result of their review of the financial position of the trust was that they recommended a reduction of 10d a ton with a few exceptions on all goods from without the Commonwealth that now pay 5s a ton wharfage. The annual amount of this 10d concession

The goods that are exempted are those generally classed as luxuries, and can be at the higher rate of 5s a ton, like wines, spirits, tobacco, cigars, and pianos, or that enter into whole or partial competition with manufactures and products. About 112 ago a manufacturers' deputation waited on the trust, and pointed out that Sydney manufacturers of barbed wire were able to dump their surplus on the Melbourne market and undersell the local article owing to the heavy wharfage dues charged here on the raw material. As a result the reductions that have now been decided on the wharfage on galvanneal iron wire has been reduced from 1s 10d to 1s 6d, while the manufactured article, barbed wire, when landed at Melbourne from within the Commonwealth, is called on to pay 2s 6d a ton, instead of the old rate of 1s. What rate on phosphatic rock and earths for purposes of manufacturing manures has been reduced from 1s 8d to 1s. In regard to guano from within the Commonwealth, the Government have made a number of increases from an existing rate of 1s per ton to 2s and 2s 6d per ton. It is estimated that these increases mean an additional revenue in the calendar year of £5715, which, less reduction on phosphatic rock, £1400, gives a net increase of £4315. Deducting this amount from the estimated amount of the reductions on other sea goods, £20,000, it is shown that the loss of revenue to the trust by the adjustment made will be £15,685. To meet this the trust proposes to devote portion of the surplus from the present year, which is absorbed by the finance committee will be £37,900.

PROVING A WILL.

MELBOURNE, Thurs
A remarkable application in connection with a probate matter was made to-day to Justice a'Beckett. The testator was Brabyn Mills, late of Ararat, relieving manager. Mr. Lewis said that Mr. Mills, a will on September 20, 1905, leaving everything to his wife. The estate was worth £1629. That was the will which was now being propounded. On September 28, 1906 made another will, the effect of which was to divide the property between the widow and his only child. The day after he made this will two doctors gave certificates under the Act that he was a lunatic. He was taken to the Ararat Asylum, and he committed suicide by strangling himself on the same day. The doctors were quite satisfied that on the day he made the second will he could not have been of sound testamentary capacity. The widow did not wish to oust his child, but wished to propound the first will, and to it proved in solemn form. She also witnessed under the practice prevailing in England. The Court wrote the instant beneficiary was not a guardian ad litem, and the Court found the validity of that will. The widow was in an awkward position, that if she put forward a second will for probate she put forward a thing which she was advised was made by the testator was not of sound capacity, she put forward the first she put it forth while knowing that there was a second which gave benefits to her daughter. Therefore, desired to leave everything to the Court, and the present application was leave to prove the first will in solemn form and for an order appointing a guardian to child to appear.

—Irish v. Pickett said he would not

An order that the will be proved in solemn form. He thought if the will were proved in the ordinary way, and somebody were appointed to lodge a caveat against the granting of probate, the whole matter would be investigated. Frederick M'Naughton (who was mentioned in the second will as a trustee and adviser) would be appointed as guardian ad litem to the infant, and he would direct him in his discretion to lodge a caveat against the will, the ground of opposition in the case to be confined to the validity or invalidity of the will executed in September, 1908.
